collaboration; and accountability*

Strategic Priorities:

- Quality Teaching and Optimum Learning
  - Students demonstrate citizenship, engage intellectually, and grow continuously as learners
- Response with Intervention
  - Mobilization of resources required to demonstrate shared, system-wide responsibility for all children
- Finding Wellness in the Work

OUR ACCOMPLISHMENTS

• This year, parents indicated that they were 100% satisfied in the following three categories:

1. Percentage of parents who feel that they are informed about their student progress/achievement
2. percentage of parents that know what their children must do to be successful in school
3. percentage of parents satisfied with school communication

Our school is quite pleased at these results as one of our intentional efforts over the past three years has been in pursuing initiatives that would result in greater parent involvement and trust in our school operations.

Relationships between parents and our school were most definitely strained due to the rigors of the Covid years. These relationships did not mend immediately after the introduction of more traditional education on recent years. It is pleasing to know that our intentional management of relationships have seemed to gained purchase with our parent stakeholders.

ENGAGING OUR COMMUNITY

- Student success is a collective endeavor.
- We encourage staff, students, and parents to provide feedback and response to surveys as we strive to make data-informed decisions.

COMMENTARY

- "Our school community—parents, students, and teachers—has expressed overwhelming confidence in the education we provide, with 92% satisfaction that students are acquiring the skills, knowledge, and attitudes essential for lifelong learning. This strong consensus among all stakeholders not only affirms that our students are well-prepared for their futures but also highlights the shared commitment to their success.
- This collective support provides a solid foundation for launching new initiatives and enhancing existing programs that further position our students for future achievements. By working together, we can continue to identify emerging opportunities, integrate innovative approaches, and refine strategies to ensure our children are equipped to excel in a rapidly evolving world."
